Privacy policy for SpongePie Group's applications and official website.

This document comes into force on 7th July 2015 and stays in it until further notice.

Important terminology

Group - SpongePie Group, us.

Administrator - a person who manages Services.

Website - official SpongePie Group's website, available at https://spongepie.com.

User - a person who uses our Services, You.

Service - our Website or application made by us.

Administrator

Administrator of Website is Bartłomiej Stawiarz <bartek@spongepie.com>.

Applications are being maintained by whole Group which consists of Bartłomiej Stawiarz and Nikodem Bartnik.

Gathering information

Group gathers information about Users and their behavior by:

- Storing freely given User's data from forms.
- Saving cookies in User's end device.
- Storing WWW and Services' logs.

Types of gathered information

Group gathers following information:

Gathered automatically:

- Time of queries
- Last visited URL
- IP address
- Type, model, system and specification of device*
- Age*

- Gender*
- Country of residence*
- Language*

Gathered voluntarily from User:

- User's preferences based on his answers and choices
- Email address
- Google account's username

* - data gathered automatically, which can be later specified by User

Storing information

Data gathered automatically are being stored for maximum of 5 years since last use of any of Group's Service.

However, this section doesn't apply to data gathered voluntarily, unless stated differently.

Viewing data and sharing them

User has the right to view his information and correct them in any moment, to this end he should send a request at support@spongepie.com.

Third parties have access to information within the limits of the law.

Group reserves the right to share User's data with public authorities on their request.

Cookies

Services store little files in end devices' memory called "cookies" for the following purposes:

- Creating statistics and analysing usage of Services.
- Determinating User's preferences based on his choices.
- Simplifying usage of Services.
- Increasing Services' functionality.

By leaving cookies support enabled, User agrees to keeping them on his device for mentioned purposes.

If User does not agree to this, he is obligated to turn off cookies support in his device on his own.

Cookies might be also used by third parties cooperating with Group for different purposes (including marketing purposes) for which Group is not responsible.

Damage responsibility

Group may not be held responsible for any damages caused by unexpected data leak or theft of User's information not by Group's fault.